Convention To Draw 1000 Educators

The 70th annual convention of the American Association of Land Grant Colleges and State Universities opens at the Willard and Washington Hotels here today. More than 1000 college and university officials are expected at the convention, which continues through Thursday.

General sessions of the Association, whose membership includes the 71 land grant colleges and State universities, begin on Tuesday at the Willard Hotel. Howard L. Bevis, chairman of the National Committee for the Development of Scientists and Engineers and Devereux C. Joseph, chairman of the President's Committee on Education Beyond the High School, will address the Tuesday session.

Allen W. Dulles, Director of the Central Intelligence Agency, Air Force Secretary Donald A. Quarles, and Harrison E. Salisbury of the New York Times will be the Wednesday session speakers.

Ezra Taft Benson, Secretary of Agriculture, and William G. Pollard, executive director of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, will address the delegates Thursday.

Another convention opening here today is that of the National Licensed Beverage Association. Running through Thursday at the Shoreham it is expected to have an attendance of 1500.
